To the extent directed against him, this Defendant denies the allegations as phrased in paragraph 12.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the individuals plaintiff alleges to be part of the argumentative, vague, and/or undefined terms “Watts Gang” and “high-ranking officials,” and he therefore makes no further response to the allegations in this paragraph incorporating those terms. ¹ Although they do not conform with pleading rules, to the extent that titles used throughout the complaint require an answer, Mr. Cline denies all wrongful conduct alleged against him in these titles.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 19.

21. The acts of the individual officer defendants in furtherance of their scheme to frame plaintiff include the following:

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 23.

24. As the leader of the above-described criminal enterprise, Watts trained the other individual officer defendants to commit the above-described wrongful acts, encouraged the other individual officer defendants to commit the above-described wrongful acts, and failed to intervene to prevent the violation of plaintiff's rights.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 24.

V. Plaintiff’s Arrest and Prosecution Were Part of a Long-Running Pattern Known to High-Ranking Officials within the Chicago Police Department

32. Before the Watts Gang engineered plaintiff’s above-described wrongful arrest, detention, and prosecution, the Chicago Police Department had received many civilian complaints that defendant Watts and the Watts Gang were engaging in robbery, extortion, the use of excessive force, planting evidence, fabricating evidence, and manufacturing false charges against persons at the Ida B. Wells Homes.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the individuals plaintiff alleges to be part of the argumentative, vague, and undefined term “Watts Gang,” and he therefore makes no further response to the allegations in this paragraph incorporating that term. This Defendant admits the CPD received information alleging Defendant Watts was engaging in criminal misconduct against drug dealers at the Ida B. Wells housing complex, and that CPD’s IAD participated with federal authorities in a joint federally-led investigation of those allegations. This Defendant lacks knowledge or information of the misconduct involving plaintiff as alleged in the complaint against the Defendant Officers. This Defendant denies any remaining allegations in paragraph 32 inconsistent with the foregoing.

33. Criminal investigators corroborated these civilian complaints with information they obtained from multiple cooperating witnesses.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the “criminal investigators” to whom plaintiff is referring. To the extent the allegations of this paragraph are intended to refer to investigators involved in the federally-led investigation in which CPD’s IAD participated, this Defendant admits on information and belief the CPD and other law enforcement investigators had received information from individuals who were alleging Defendant Watts was engaging in criminal misconduct at the Ida B. Wells housing complex. This Defendant is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of any remaining allegations contained in paragraph 33.

34. Before the Watts Gang engineered plaintiff’s above-described wrongful arrest, detention, and prosecution, defendants Cline and Kirby knew about the above-described credible allegations of serious wrongdoing by Watts and the Watts Gang and knew that criminal investigators had corroborated these allegations.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the individuals plaintiff alleges to be part of the argumentative, vague, and undefined terms “Watts Gang,” “criminal investigators,” and “credible allegations,” and he therefore makes no further response to the allegations in this paragraph incorporating those terms. This Defendant admits the CPD received information alleging Defendant Watts was engaging in criminal misconduct against drug dealers at the Ida B. Wells housing complex, and that CPD’s IAD participated with federal authorities in a joint federally-led investigation of those allegations. This Defendant lacks knowledge or information of the misconduct involving plaintiff as alleged in the complaint against the Defendant Officers. This Defendant denies any remaining allegations contained in paragraph 34 inconsistent with the foregoing.

35. Defendants Cline and Kirby also knew, before the Watts Gang engineered plaintiff’s above-described wrongful arrest, detention, and prosecution, that, absent intervention by the Chicago Police Department, Watts and his gang would continue to engage in robbery and extortion, use excessive force, plant evidence, fabricate evidence, and manufacture false charges.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the individuals plaintiff alleges to be part of the argumentative, vague, and undefined term “Watts Gang,” and he therefore makes no further response to the allegations in this paragraph incorporating that term. Wells housing complex, and CPD’s IAD participated with federal authorities in a joint federally-led investigation of those allegations. This Defendant denies any remaining allegations in paragraph 36 inconsistent with the foregoing.

37. Defendants Cline and Kirby had the power and the opportunity to prevent Watts and his gang from continuing to engage in the above-described wrongdoing.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the individuals plaintiff alleges to be part of the argumentative, vague, and undefined term

“Watts and his gang,” and he therefore makes no further response to the allegations in this paragraph incorporating that term. To the extent the allegations of this paragraph are directed against him, this Defendant admits the CPD’s IAD participated with federal authorities in a joint federally-led investigation of allegations that Watts may have been engaging in criminal activity against drug dealers at the Ida B. Wells housing complex. To the extent this paragraph alleges or infers Mr. Cline or Ms. Kirby was obligated to take actions that would have interfered with, obstructed, and/or exposed a pending confidential investigation, those allegations are denied. This Defendant denies any remaining allegations in paragraph 37 directed against him.

38. Defendants Cline and Kirby deliberately chose to turn a blind eye to the wrongdoing by Watts and his gang.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the individuals plaintiff alleges to be part of the argumentative, vague, and undefined term “Watts and his gang,” and he therefore makes no further response to the allegations in this paragraph incorporating that term. To the extent directed against him, this Defendant denies the remaining allegations contained in paragraph 38.

39. As a direct and proximate result of the deliberate indifference of defendants Cline and Kirby, Watts and his gang continued to engage in robbery and extortion, use excessive force, plant evidence, fabricate evidence, and manufacture false charges against persons at the Ida B. VI. Official Policies and Customs of the Chicago Police Department Were the Moving Force behind the Defendants’ Misconduct

40. At all relevant times, the Chicago Police Department maintained official policies and customs that facilitated, encouraged, and condoned the defendants' misconduct.

ANSWER: This Defendant denies on information and belief the allegations contained in paragraph 40.

A. Failure to Discipline

41. At all relevant times, the Chicago Police Department maintained a policy or custom of failing to discipline, supervise, and control its officers. By maintaining this policy or custom, the City caused its officers to believe that they could engage in misconduct with impunity because their actions would never be thoroughly scrutinized.

ANSWER: This Defendant denies on information and belief the allegations contained in paragraph 41.

42. Before plaintiff's arrest, policymakers for the City of Chicago knew that the Chicago Police Department's policies or customs for disciplining, supervising, and controlling its officers were inadequate and caused police misconduct.

ANSWER: This Defendant denies on information and belief the allegations contained in paragraph 42.

This Defendant lacks knowledge or information of the misconduct involving plaintiff as alleged in the complaint against the Defendant Officers, and he is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations contained in paragraph 44.

45. As a direct and proximate result of the Chicago Police Department's inadequate policies or customs for disciplining, supervising, and controlling its officers and the policymakers' failure to address these problems, Watts and his gang continued to engage in robbery and extortion, use excessive force, plant evidence, fabricate evidence, and manufacture false charges against persons at the Ida B. Wells Homes, including but not limited to the wrongful arrest, detention, and prosecution of plaintiff, as described above.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the individuals plaintiff alleges to be part of the argumentative, vague, and undefined term "Watts and his gang," and he therefore makes no further response to the allegations in this paragraph incorporating that term. This Defendant denies the remaining allegations as phrased in paragraph 45.

B. Code of Silence

46. At all relevant times, the Chicago Police Department maintained a code of silence that required police officers to remain silent about police misconduct. An officer who violated the code of silence would be severely penalized by the Department.

ANSWER: This Defendant denies on information and belief that a "code of silence" as described in the complaint was a pervasive or widespread practice within the CPD, denies the remaining allegations in this paragraph, and further states that such a "code of silence" is directly contrary to the rules, policies, and training of the CPD.

47. At all relevant times, police officers were trained at the Chicago Police Academy not to break the code of silence. Officers were instructed that "Blue is Blue. You stick together. If something occurs on the street that you don't think is proper, you go with the flow. And after that situation, if you have an issue with that officer or what happened, you can confront them. If you don't feel comfortable working with them anymore, you can go to the watch commander and request a new partner. But you never break the code of silence."

ANSWER: This Defendant denies on information and belief the allegations contained in paragraph 47, and further states that a "code of silence" as described is directly contrary to the rules, policies, and training of the CPD.

48. This code of silence facilitated, encouraged, and enabled the individual officer defendants to engage in egregious misconduct for many years, knowing that their fellow officers would cover for them and help conceal their widespread wrongdoing.

ANSWER: This Defendant denies on information and belief the allegations contained in paragraph 48, and further states that a “code of silence” as described above is directly contrary to the rules, policies, and training of the CPD.

49. Consistent with this code of silence, the few people within the Chicago Police Department who stood up to Watts and his gang or who attempted to report their misconduct were either ignored or punished, and the Watts Gang was thereby able to engage in misconduct with impunity.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the individuals plaintiff alleges to be part of the argumentative, vague, and undefined terms “Watts Gang” or “Watts and his gang,” and he therefore makes no further response to the allegations in this paragraph incorporating either term. This Defendant denies on information and belief the remaining allegations contained in paragraph 49.

This Defendant denies on information and belief the remaining allegations as phrased in paragraph 50.

51. One example of this widespread practice is Chicago police officer Jerome Finnigan, who was convicted and sentenced on federal criminal charges in 2011. One of the charges against Finnigan involved his attempt to hire a hitman to kill a police officer whom Finnigan believed would be a witness against him.

ANSWER: This Defendant admits on information and belief former police officer Jerome Finnigan was convicted and sentenced on criminal charges, and that one of the charges against Finnigan was based on his alleged attempt to hire someone to kill a police officer whom Finnigan understood might be a potential witness against him in criminal proceedings. This Defendant denies the remaining allegations contained in paragraph 51.

52. Finnigan was part of a group of officers in the Defendant City's Special Operations Section who carried out robberies, home invasions, unlawful searches and seizures, and other crimes.

ANSWER: This Defendant admits Finnigan and other members of the CPD's Special Operations Section were convicted of various criminal charges. This Defendant denies any remaining allegations contained in paragraph 52 inconsistent with the foregoing.

53. Finnigan and his crew engaged in their misconduct at around the same time that plaintiff was subjected to the abuses described above.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to identities of the individuals plaintiff alleges to be part of Finnigan's "crew." To the extent a further response is necessary, this Defendant denies knowledge or information as to whether "plaintiff was subjected to" the misconduct alleged in the complaint. This Defendant denies any remaining allegations contained in paragraph 53.

54. Finnigan, like the defendants in this case, had been the subject of many formal complaints of misconduct.

ANSWER: This Defendant is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the meaning of the vague and argumentative term "many." This Defendant admits on information and belief Finnigan had been the subject of complaints of alleged misconduct over the course of his career. ANSWER: This Defendant denies knowledge or information of the truth or credibility of any statements made by Finnigan at his criminal sentencing.

This Defendant is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 56.

57. Defendant Mohammed pleaded guilty in 2012.

ANSWER: This Defendant admits on information and belief Kallatt Mohammed pleaded guilty to criminal charges, but he denies Mohammed is a named defendant in this matter.

ANSWER: This Defendant admits on information and belief the allegations contained in paragraph 58.

59. In the case of Obrycka v. City of Chicago et al., No. 07-cv-2372 (N.D. Ill.), a federal jury found that, as of February 2007, “the City [of Chicago] had a widespread custom and/or practice of failing to investigate and/or discipline its officers and/or code of silence.”

ANSWER: This Defendant is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 59.

60. In December 2015, Chicago Mayor Rahm Emanuel acknowledged the continued existence of the code of silence within the Chicago Police Department; Emanuel, speaking in his capacity as Mayor, admitted that the code of silence leads to a culture where extreme acts of abuse are tolerated.

ANSWER: This Defendant is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 60.

61. In April 2016, the City’s Police Accountability Task Force found that the code of silence “is institutionalized and reinforced by CPD rules and policies that are also baked into the labor agreements between the various police unions and the City.”

62. In an official government report issued in January 2017, the United States Department of Justice found that “a code of silence exists, and officers and community members know it.”

63. March 29, 2019, then-Chicago Police Superintendent Eddie Johnson publicly acknowledged the code of silence, stating that some Chicago police officers “look the other way” when they observe misconduct by other Chicago police officers.

ANSWER: This Defendant is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 63.

64. In October 2020, Chicago Police Superintendent David Brown acknowledged in public comments that the code of silence continues to exist.

ANSWER: This Defendant is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 64.

65. The same code of silence in place during the time period at issue in the Obrycka case and recognized by the Mayor, Superintendent Johnson, Superintendent Brown, the Task Force, and the Department of Justice was also in place when plaintiff suffered the wrongful arrest, detention, and prosecution described above.

ANSWER: This paragraph consists of a legal conclusion to which no answer is required. To the extent a response is deemed necessary, this Defendant denies knowledge that a “code of silence” was a pervasive or widespread practice within the CPD, and he therefore denies the allegations as phrased in paragraph 65. This Defendant further states that a “code of silence” as described in the complaint is directly contrary to the rules, policies, and training of the CPD.

66. As a direct and proximate result of the City’s code of silence, Watts and his gang continued to engage in robbery and extortion, use excessive force, plant evidence, fabricate evidence, and manufacture false charges against persons at the Ida B. Wells Homes, including but not limited to the wrongful arrest, detention, and prosecution of plaintiff, as described above.

ANSWER: This Defendant lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the individuals plaintiff alleges to be part of the argumentative, vague, and undefined term “Watts and his gang,” and he therefore makes no further response to the allegations in this paragraph incorporating that term. This Defendant denies the remaining allegations as phrased in paragraph 66.

ANSWER: This Defendant makes no answer to the allegations contained in paragraph 68, which are not directed against him. This Defendant denies committing any tort against plaintiff.

69. Plaintiff hereby demands trial by jury.

ANSWER: This Defendant admits plaintiff’s complaint includes a jury demand.

WHEREFORE, Defendant, Philip Cline, denies that plaintiff is entitled to any judgment whatsoever as against him, and he requests that this Court enter judgment in his favor and against plaintiff on all claims in plaintiff’s complaint, and for his costs and such further relief as this Court deems just.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

Defendant, Philip Cline, through counsel, without prejudice to his denials and all other statements in his answer and elsewhere, for his affirmative defenses to plaintiff’s complaint, states:

1. At all times relevant to the allegations in the complaint, Mr. Cline was a public official exercising discretion in the course of his duties, and he is entitled to qualified immunity.

2. Mr. Cline is entitled to qualified immunity for his conduct because it was not clearly established that his actions violated plaintiff's constitutional rights.

3. Plaintiff's claims are barred by the applicable statutes of limitations.

4. Plaintiff's claims are barred by the doctrines of res judicata, judicial estoppel, and/or collateral estoppel.

5. An award of punitive damages would deprive Mr. Cline of due process of law in violation of the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution where liability for punitive damages has not been proven beyond a reasonable doubt or at least by clear and convincing evidence, or where the award of punitive damages is disproportionate to actual damages.

6. Mr. Cline is not liable for any of plaintiff's claims because a public employee acting within the scope of his employment is not liable for an injury caused by the act or omission of another person. 745 ILCS 10/2-202.

7. To the extent plaintiff failed to mitigate any of his claimed injuries or damages, any verdict or judgment obtained by plaintiff must be reduced by application of the principle that a plaintiff has a duty to mitigate those damages.

8. To the extent any injuries or damages claimed by plaintiff was proximately caused, in whole or in part, by negligent, willful, wanton and/or other wrongful conduct on the part of plaintiff as reflected in the public record, including but not limited to, police reports and court records, any verdict or judgment obtained by plaintiff must be reduced by an amount commensurate with the degree of fault attributed to plaintiff by the jury in this case.

9. Any recovery of damages by plaintiff against Mr. Cline is barred by the doctrine of in pari delicto.

10. Mr. Cline would be entitled to a set-off for any and all amounts plaintiff recovered for the same injuries and damages being claimed in this lawsuit, including but not limited to amounts received from the Illinois Court of Claims.

11. Plaintiff's complaint fails to state cognizable claims for relief against Mr. Cline:

- a. Any fabrication of evidence claim is not actionable as a due process claim because the evidence allegedly fabricated was not introduced against plaintiff at trial and did not cause his conviction;
- b. Even if otherwise actionable, plaintiff's guilty plea defeats his fabrication of evidence claim;
- c. Plaintiff has not alleged a viable Brady claim;
- d. To the extent plaintiff asserts a Fourteenth Amendment federal malicious prosecution claim or due process claim based on pre-trial deprivation of liberty, those claims are not actionable as a matter of law;
- e. Any failure to intervene claim has no basis in the Constitution, and the "Supreme Court has held many times that §1983 supports only direct, and not vicarious, liability." Mwangangi v. Nielsen, 48 F.4th 816, 834-35 (7th Cir. 2022) (Easterbrook, J., concurring);
- f. Any Fourth Amendment claim for detention without probable cause is time-barred; and
- g. Plaintiff's state law malicious prosecution claim is time-barred.

In addition to the foregoing, Mr. Cline had no personal involvement in the alleged unconstitutional conduct or alleged malicious prosecution underlying plaintiff's claims.
